FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE MARIETTA COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FALL 2021

A memo from our Chair, Susan 'Jay' Hauck

When thinking about Marietta College, especially our beautiful campus, my favorite question to fellow Pioneers is, "what's your favorite building?" My answer is easily Fayerweather Hall. I lived there senior year with my roommate, Suzy on the third floor of that graceful old women's dorm, that was affectionately nick-named 'Menopause Mansion.' Interestingly enough, the money donated to construct it in the 1890's came from a Connecticut man named Daniel B. Fayerweather, a wealthy shoe manufacturer who had no connection whatsoever to Marietta College. Fayweather decided to give his estate away to a small collection of schools he thought worthy and that list included only the best of his time—Yale, Amherst, Williams, Dartmouth, Columbia, and Marietta College.

In the 1980's, we moved into Fayerweather Hall nearly 100 years after it was built. We met up with many of the same people who formerly shared our Dorothy Webster freshman dorm floors. It was as if, before graduating and moving on to our next chapter in life, the circle between freshman and senior year was being sealed in this historic proud building.

I tell this story because I sincerely love being an alumni of our amazing, historic, and humble school. As receivers of a liberal arts degrees, we know that history helps pave the way to the future. We also honor the history of all people that walked before us on those nearly 200 year-old sidewalks, ensuring that those who walk them today—and in the future—have the same great experience.

After immersing himself in our campus archives to research his book, The Pioneers, Presidential Medal of Freedom and Pulitzer Prize winning historian, David McCullough, was quoted saying that Marietta College was one of the best kept secrets in higher education. I'm sure we all agree with Mr. McCullough and Mr. Fayerweather, that MC is a special place.

It is my sincere hope that the projects and assistance provided by Marietta College Alumni Association can help all graduates value the school today and long after this class graduates, joining in the Long Blue Line. As the MCAA Chair, I look forward to working with all our passionate members representing an alumni group some 25,000 strong. We are 25 unique people. We represent 17 different class years, nearly all Greek houses, 12 different states, and a multiple of varied career and life experiences. What we have in common is our love of our school and the ability to lend a hand.

During my tenure, I want to make sure Marietta continues to pioneer as times change and that all alumni voices are heard. The MCAA is a vessel to facilitate strong alumni connection to the College. I encourage you to reach out to either myself or any of the other 24 members. Thanks for all you do for our amazing MC!

Jay
