

Ligamentous injuries are more prevalent in female athletes, due to many different factors. Hormonal fluctuations and the use of birth control can also impact ligamentous injuries. The objective of this study is to find if there is a correlation between the use of birth control and ligamentous injuries in collegiate female athletes. 11 participants completed the study, 6 were on birth control. Results and conclusion are pending.