

The objective of this study is to compare contamination plumes mapped in the Marietta aquifer in 1993 to contamination levels measured in the currently active interceptor well for cis-1,2-dichloroethene, trans-1,2-dichloroethene, tetrachloroethylene (TCE), and trichloroethylene (TCE).