

I will talk about the process of writing and illustrating a bilingual Spanish/English children's book through the Leader in Residence program this spring. I will explain why I chose to create a bilingual children's story, my experience in completing the project, and what help I received to achieve this.